

Weekly Newsletter 18th January 2018

Dear Parents,

This week, some of the children in Reception and Key Stage 1 have begun their lunchtime Science club with Dr. Catto. This week they were exploring different chemical effects, including heat pads and cleaning coins. Dr. Catto runs the popular local franchise of 'Mini Professors'. They also run events outside of school: <https://www.miniprofessors.com/>

Year 5 have begun their Bikeability training this week. They will be learning how to handle their bike safely in terms of their technical control, and also knowing about the aspects of the Highway Code which relate to cycling, and also the importance of maintaining safe equipment.

Year 1 children have today attended multi-skills sports sessions at Easton College sports hall. They were accompanied by Mrs Lee, Mrs Salisbury and Mrs Hellier, and competed in an arrange of events alongside children from other local schools. They were all complimented on their excellent behaviour.

Finally, our times table challenge is now under way, and the first children have started to earn their badges. Our website of the week later in features an excellent site which most children would be able to access independently to practise their skills. Good luck!

The recipient of this week's Head Teacher award is:

Molly B - Story writing

KS1 KS2 website recommendations/reviews

<https://www.timestables.co.uk/>

This fantastic free resource offers a wide range of learning games and practical support for learning tables. Children can register without any need for an email account, and it includes materials which can be printed off and used freely too. It also allows children to choose which level to work at, as they develop. It is available both as a website on chromebooks, laptops and PCs, and also as an iPad app called SpuQ.
