Newsletter 10th February 2022

Dear Parents,

We are really pleased that the vast majority of the children and staff have now returned to school after an extremely challenging couple of weeks. The school has felt much more normal this week, as the classes have settled down and put the disruption behind them. Clearly we will continue to monitor the Covid situation carefully, and be cautious about how we mix the children in school– at least until we can see that a repeat of this disruption is unlikely.

Have an excellent half-term break. School resumes on Monday February 21st.
