Newsletter
2nd March, 2023

Dear Parents,

Thank you for the many excellent photos of children enjoying the Norwich Science Week over half-term. I have included some of them later in the newsletter. It is great to see children continuing their Science learning outside of school.

Thank you also to all of the parents who supported with the school disco last week. It was a really enjoyable event, and it was clear that the children had a lot of fun. I know that Friends were also delighted with the response to the Smarties Challenge fund raiser.

There have also been a number of other special events in school over the last week. Barn Owls enjoyed a visit to Norwich museums as part of their topic this term, and Eagle Owls had lots of fun at the recent Stargazing night in school. We have also taken two teams of older children to a large inter-school Maths competition at Norwich School (pictures later in newsletter).

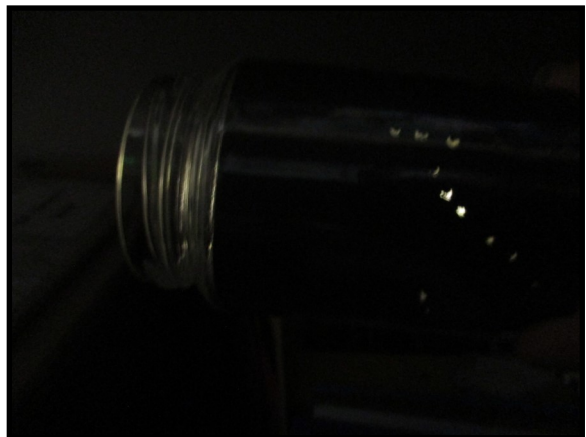

Well done to everybody who has taken part in today's World Book Day event. The costumes are fantastic and the fruit and vegetable entries seem to get more imaginative every year. There are some pictures from today, later in the newsletter.

Next Friday will also be dressing up with 'Crazy Clothes' day for the local 'Little Lifts' charity– any donations to be made direct through their website at <https://www.littlelifts.org.uk/> (children can dress up in crazy clothes combinations if they would like to).

Nut Free School

A general reminder that we operate a nut-free policy in school for all food. Please be particularly careful with any food provided to celebrate birthdays as some chocolate can include traces of nuts. We do have some children with severe allergies in our school and we obviously want to look after them to the very best of our ability.

Yours faithfully,

Alex Pritchard, Headteacher.
